

Path2Week2 (Design an algorithm to help with social distancing)

The flow graphs below assume that each user holds a phone with an app to send data to a database or a robot, this is required because we need to store a number that gets incremented or decremented depending on the number of users in range of the Bluetooth beacon in a specific area.

